The Prez sez

Well pards, our annual match is fast approaching so get ready with them tools. Rascal will be posting sign ups for the work parties very soon. Just a reminder---NO MONTHLY SHOOT on May 2nd. There will be a work party instead.

On April 14th, our Executive Board met to discuss recent safety issues raised by JCSA and Trap & Skeet. As a result, I drafted an action letter to JCSA President Bob Kurilow and EVP Lura Johnson suggesting the formation of a Safety Committee comprised of one representative from each JCSA affiliated club to address all safety issues occurring on the JCSA ranges. Included were several suggestions on how to improve safety at JCSA. If you would like a copy to read, just send me an email requesting one. I will try to keep everyone posted on any new developments in this matter.

At our last monthly shoot, we had a chance to try out our new stationary shotgun clay target devices. Everyone thought they worked great! ---and they did! Our thanks to Har Trigger for a job well done.

Finally, be sure to keep Lucky Rick O'Shay, Patty Taylor and Bill Lindholm in your thoughts and prayers. They are all keeping up the good fight and need our continued support.

Happy trails,

Yer pard,
Bear Bone Smith

Ladies Shooting Clinic Held on March 29, 2009

Neither rain, nor sleet nor snow can keep the ladies away from their guns. 15 ladies met on a cold and blustery day (it even snowed and hailed for a brief period of time), at the Table Rock Ranger range to learn the ins and outs of cowboy action shooting.

I would like to extend a big thanks to Derringer Donna, Fairweather Kate, Gaye Abandon, Harley Davidson, Ima Horsinaround, and Shooting Silver Star who helped me guide those ladies who were not experienced in the fine art of cowboy action shooting. Everyone learned what this shooting sport is all about, from safety to costuming, to selecting a weapon suited to their preference. Thanks to Treacherous Jack and Runnin' Wild, targets were set up (and taken down), so that real stages could be tried out. As the day warmed up, much laughter was heard. I must say that Kookanadude set a fine example of how those stages should be shot. Good job Kook

Again, thank you ladies for your help. We will definitely plan to make this an annual event.

- Molly b' Dam

Dispatches from the Territorial Governor by Sweetwater Jack

Though it's NOT NEWS anymore I want to remind those of you that just HAVE to make modifications to your Rugers, that it IS OK to replace the stock hammers on those guns with the "Ruger Montado" hammer. This can be done on the Vaquero, The Black Hawk or Super Blackhawk. With "regular" frames. It's a no-go on the Bisley models, as well as the Super Six .32s...Now the question is whether or not you can GET one of these Montado hammers. As you know, the Montado revolver itself was designed by Ruger for the Mounted Shooter, and has a couple of features designed to help those stalwart hoss-back shooters to hang on to their guns while bouncing around in a saddle..... The main "feature" is the deep line grooving on the grip frame. The Montado was OK'ed by the T/G's at the last Summit ONLY if that grip enhancement was ELIMINATED (ground down and smoothed out) It is my understanding that Ruger has now produced a variation of the Montado WITHOUT the scribing. If you decide to order one of these make sure your dealer knows it must one of the "modified" Montados.

Squibs, squibs, squibs....ugly little things that really can ruin your day when they raise their pointy little heads. OK, question was raised on the "wire" as follows: Shooter is on the line hears the beep and pulls his first gun, a revolver, and the first cartridge was apparently in the "John" when the powder was passed out..... SQUIB! Definite SQUIB! He dutifully hands off the errant firearm to Range Safety Officer. Now....what does he do? Pull second pistol, shoot five, take the five misses on the first pistol and complete the stage?? OR,, does he (politely) ask for a "restart"? We all know the answer to this one.....don't we? Don't we? For purposes of "restarts", when does the "stage commitment" begin? When the first shot goes down-range, of course... Did his first shot GO downrange? Nope.. It went about 2 inches into his 4 3/4 inch barrel..... Yes, the bullet DID leave the confines of the case, jump the gap to the forcing cone and start on its merry way down the barrel, but it sure as shootin' (pardon the expression) didn't go downrange. (My warped mind just brought up the thought of: "What if it had JUST enough oomph to go all the way down the barrel and exit the muzzle, then dropped to the ground two feet ahead of the shooter's two feet...(sorry, couldn't resist) ???

Is THAT considered "downrange"??? I sure wouldn't consider it "downrange", and if that DID happen...I'd probably be rolling around on the ground laughing my butt off in the FIRST place....

BUT..... Keep in mind that ALL SASS matches above the club level are "no alibi" matches. Once the first round goes down range, the competitor is committed to the stage and must finish the stage to the best of his or her ability. Reshoots/restarts are not awarded for ammunition or firearm malfunctions. (Shooters Hand Book p.20 ) What to do in a "higher" match?

Classic (worst case?) scenario: Shooter fired first five revolver shots, then had a "squib" on the first round of the second pistol.

Shooter safely grounded the disabled firearm; then emptied and reloaded the first one (a full 5-round reload) to finish the stage. (You DO have a second, fully functional revolver on your person, right? - slow, but a reload on the clock and hitting all ten revolver targets is better than taking the five misses and blowing your "clean match", no?

Last item: Many clubs have a formal "new shooter orientation" class that the brand new cowboy action shooter must complete before competing in a match. I think we've been a little lax in this regard, and although we DO a pretty good job of "coaching" a new shooter and assigning an "Old Hand" to work with them, I feel that a formal classroom course would be very beneficial. Bear Bone has a couple of course outlines that are very good. This course would be more than just a safety orientation, but would get a little into selecting suitable guns and ammo, clothing, maybe even tips on selecting their new SASS Alias. The Ladies-Only Clinic run on 29 March down at Table Rock was a really good start and though everyone there about froze their patookies off, it was very well received. (Look for an article in the Cowboy Chronicle in a couple of months)

You all keep your powder WARM, and remember: "De inimico non loquaris male, sed cogites" (Do not wish ill for your enemy, plan it)
