Battle of Rogue River '16 — Spreading the Legends, Pt. 2

Continuing our teasers for May's Battle of Rogue Rive, last month we presented a clip from one of the contributing fan clubs, an expanded storyline from Louis L'Amour. (from which we'll edit down for the actual match). This month, enjoy a submission from Zane Grey's team (with a little extra background you may appreciate). Enjoy.

From THE LAST OF THE DUANES

A gang of bank robbers rides into a trap set by the gunfighter Buck Duane, who had infiltrated their group, and the Texas Rangers. Buck Duane carried a pearl handled Colt 45 revolver he had inherited from his father, also a famed gunfighter, who had died in a gunfight. Buck's uncle told him that his father had fired two shots after being shot through the heart.

Note: The Last of the Duanes is the original version of this story. A severely edited novel entitled The Lone Star Ranger combined two novels, one of which was The Last of the Duanes, much to the chagrin of Zane Grey. This edited novel was published in 1915. The copyright for The Last of the Duanes was 1996 when the original manuscript was finally published.

STORY: At a few minutes before half past two, a dark, compact body of horsemen appear, turning into the road. They come at a sharp trot — a group that would have attracted attention anywhere at any time. They pull up in front of the bank and you see Poggin speak to his companions then dismount. They have the look of ranchers about to conduct some business. No guns showed. Poggin starts leisurely for the door, quickening his step a little as he comes. The others, close together, come behind him. Blossum Kane has a bag in his hand. Poggin enters the vestibule first, with Kane on one side and Boldt on the other a little behind him. As the leader of the bank robbers strides in, he sees you.

LINE: "I'm waitin' on you, Poggin!"

Update regarding 3-gun club using our range: Friendly negotiations continue, and our committee will meet with their reps again to continue the process. 3-gun is currently allowed by the JCSA to practice on the 2nd Saturday of the month on Bays 1 and 2 (but no "slugs" are allowed against our berms). For practice on other than those days, we will discuss the possibility of their using bays three and four, where none of our "town facades" are located. Further discussions are in process.

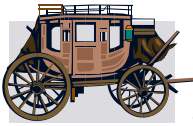

OREGON HUNTERS ASSOCIATION ANNUAL KIDS DAY is scheduled this year for June 4th, which is our regular match day. We have, in the past, supported this event, and we intend to do so again this year. The firearms we have loaned to the 4H group will be available for this day (.22 cal rifles, revolvers and a .410 gauge sxs shotgun). Anyone who can assist in donating some .22 (and .410) ammo for the kids to use on our range will be appreciated,

No March Match for Roseburg NOTE: Roseburg will NOT be shooting their regular monthly match this month (March) due to a schedule conflict.

Stage FIVE was "RAINED OUT"

Dispatches From The Territorial Governor

Howdy Pardsl!

For this month I thought it might be worthwhile to review a couple of recent SASS rule clarifications that went into effect this year.

Section 21 & 22, page 20 of the RO I Basic Safety Course:

...."holstered revolvers that remain 'in leather' in the event of an equipment failure (eg. broken belt buckle) causing the gun/ammo belt to fall, the shooter may safely recover the fallen gun/ammo belt and continue finishing the stage without penalty — or, may wait until finishing the stage for retrieval."

Section 22:

"Ammunition dropped by a shooter in the course of reloading any firearm during a stage or 'ejected' from any firearm may be retrieved and replaced, or, alternately, must be replaced from the shooter's person or other area as allowed by the stage description. If the round is not fired, it is counted the same as a missed shot. Dropped rounds or rounds safely placed onto a prop from their original loading area may be recovered and used as long as recovering these rounds does not create loss of muzzle control."

If any of you cowboys/cowgirls have any questions about recent SASS rule changes or any rules for that matter, feel free to harass old Bear at[BearBoneSmith@msn.com](mailto: BearBoneSmith@msn.com)

A Bit o' Western Lore: According to "This Week in the West," an habitual train and stage robber, Bill Miner on March 18, 1881 made sure the passengers would not reach for their hardware on a stage he was acosting by commanding "hands up!" Author Dakota Livesay reports that this was the first time that phrase was used. He states, " Later robbers varied the phrase by telling their victims, "hold your hands up" which later identified their activity as a "hold up." So now you know.
